

eTouch for Health Software System

by Earl Cook & Gail Cook, Atlanta, Georgia with Dr. John Thie and Matthew Thie, Malibu, California

eTouch is the software companion to the popular Touch for Health book and natural healthcare system originally created by Dr. John Thie in 1973 and updated in 2005 by John & Matthew Thie. Holistic energy kinesiology is used for the reduction and elimination of stress and pain in the body, while promoting wellness and optimum performance. As a holistic system, TFH focuses on the totality of the human system.

eTouch is an advanced software system that automates the healing modality to a large degree. First shipped in Dec. 2003, the software is already in use in homes and clinics in over 55 countries of the world. Translations are being requested for German, Japanese, Spanish and French versions. Version 2.0 shipped June, 2007 (English only).
